Cookies Policy

When you visit the RFSA Foundation website small pieces of information are stored on your computer. These are known as Cookies.

We set these cookies to monitor the website's performance and also gather statistics on which parts of the site are popular. We use the information we collect to improve and update the site's content as well as enhance the experience for future visitors.

Cookies are specific to the website that created them so cannot be accessed by anyone else, which means that they cannot be used to track your movements around the web.

You can manage these cookies yourself and learn more about them from AllAboutCookies.org. You can block or erase cookies from your computer if you want to, but certain parts of our website may be reliant on the use of cookies to operate correctly and may not work correctly if you set your browser not to accept cookies.

If you have any queries about these cookies that are set by this website and the third-party services we use, or would like more information about them, please email admin@rfsafoundation.org
